PARIS (AP)—Premier Pierre Mendes-France reshuffled his Cabinet Friday to fill the six gaps left by resignations following the bitter dispute over the European Defense Community treaty. Three pro-EDC ministers resigned earlier Friday, nearly three weeks after three anti-EDC Cabinet members quit.

The Premier's changes included shifting of eight present ministers to new posts and appointment of two new men. Two posts were left vacant and another apparently was eliminated in the reshuffle. Mendes-France also created one new post—secretary of state in the Interior Ministry.

Red China Shells Two Quemoy Isles For Five Hours

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Communist Chinese artillery Friday bombarded two Nationalist-held islands off the China coast for more than five hours.

A Nationalist government communiqué said about 5,000 shells were fired at Quemoy and Little Quemoy. Casualties were listed as light—three killed, two seriously wounded, five slightly wounded.

The attack immediately raised speculation here whether it presaged an attempt to seize the two islands or was for political purposes only. Unofficial quarters regarded it mostly as an effort to inject disharmony into the Southeast Asia security conference which opens in Manila Monday.

Quemoy Island, a Nationalist stronghold, is seven miles east of Amoy. Red-held island city just off the China mainland. Little Quemoy is only five miles east of Amoy. The Nationalist and Red holdings thus are within easy artillery range of one another.

Plan Holiday Work On Power Lines In Hurricane Area

BOSTON (AP)—Power companies said Friday night a "dawn to dusk" schedule will be maintained over the long Labor Day weekend in an effort to bring electricity back to thousands of hurricane-stricken homes.

Many grocers in areas which lack power plan to remain open Sunday and Monday to supply fresh food on a day-to-day basis. As a further check on food spoilage, estimated at a million pounds since Tuesday's big storm, a half million pounds of dry ice was distributed Friday in Massachusetts alone.

A little break in the dark power situation in Rhode Island is expected Sunday midnight when electricity is due to be on in down town Providence at midnight.

The New England Electric System said 350,000 of the 540,000 customers who lost service had it back Friday. The system estimated 50,000 additional users will have power by midnight Friday.

As hope waned for the 11-man crew of a New Bedford fishing vessel missing since Tuesday the hurricane death list rose to 67.

Phenix City Mayor, Sheriff Indicted

PHENIX CITY, Ala. (AP)—Mayor Elmer Reese and former Sheriff Ralph Mathews were indicted for willful neglect of duty Friday by a vice-hunting grand jury which swung another death blow at racketeering in Phenix City.

Another indictment in a list of 14 returned by the grand jury in the second interim report in five days charged Mathews' former chief deputy, Albert Fuller, with accepting a bribe.

Names of the other 10 defendants involved in the 14 indictments—were withheld until they were—one person had two against him put under arrest or under bond.

Former Sheriff Mathews resigned under pressure 10 days ago. Although technically under arrest, he was not taken immediately to jail. Bond was fixed at $1,000.

The veteran law enforcement officer, who has been sheriff or Russell County for 12 years, was one of four county officials whose nominations in the May 4 Democratic primary were revoked by the State Democratic Executive Committee because of widespread voting irregularities in Phenix City.

THIEF TAKES $6,000 FROM WOMAN

CHICAGO (AP)—A fist-swinging thief punched a woman employee of an insurance company on a Northwest Side street Friday, wrested $6,000 from her and fled.

Miss Betty Wojcik, 34, an employee of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. at 3411 Diversey Ave., left the office with the money in a bag. She intended to deposit it in a bank.

A young robber accosted her as she walked toward her parked car. He beat her, snatched the bag and ran.

Fleming Is Officer U.S. Can Be Proud Of: Col. Ahlert

PT. SHERIDAN, Ill. (AP)—A defense witness in the court-martial trial of Lt. Col. Harry Fleming Friday termed the artillery officer "the type of officer that our government can be proud of."

Col. John F. Ahlert, retired, of Temple, Tex., under whom Fleming once served, said it was "unthinkable" that the accused officer would be sympathetic to communism.

Ahlert was called as the first witness for Fleming, who is accused of collaborating with the enemy during his three years in a North Korean prison camp. Fleming is the first American Army officer to be tried for behavior as a POW in Korea.

Fleming has denied the charge. His defense is that any questionable acts he may have committed while senior American officer in the prison camp was for the benefit of his half-starved fellow prisoners. Ahlert, 64, chief of the Wisconsin Military District from 1946 to 1950 when he retired, was called by the defense after Army prosecutors succeeded in introducing as evidence tape recordings of broadcasts from a North Korean radio station in 1951.

Chicago Blames Milwaukee For Diversion Veto

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Sanitary District Friday blamed Milwaukee and Wisconsin for President Eisenhower's veto of a bill that would have permitted increased diversion of water from Lake Michigan into the Illinois Waterway.

In a statement, Anthony A. Oils, president of the district, said the fight against the diversion bill was led by Milwaukee's Mayor Frank P. Zeidler and Wisconsin Gov. Walter Kohler.

"I believe the President was ill-informed by the opponents of lake diversion," Oils said, "and the spearhead of the fight against diversion comes from Milwaukee."

Oils charged that the purpose of Milwaukee's opposition has been to divert attention from its own "pollution mess."

He claimed the Milwaukee "politicians" are attempting to focus attention on Chicago's pollution problems to "conceal" from Milwaukeeans their own pollution conditions.

Oils said it is "common knowledge in sanitary engineering circles" that:

"1. Milwaukee pollutes the source of its drinking water.

"2. They bypass a considerable portion of their raw sewage by closing the sewer gates of their treatment plants in order to maintain a uniform fertilizer product. It has been more important to the Milwaukee politicians to keep up their sales and revenue from fertilizer rather than fulfill their obligation of complete sewage treatment."

Milwaukee produces for public sale from its sewage system a fertilizer called by the trade name "milogranite."

Depressed employment in the U. S. railway equipment industry, Stassen said, was the determining consideration. American manufacturers and labor unions have been clamoring for the business.

Stassen said half the locomotives will be ordered from a Japanese firm, half from an American company. The low bidder is the Japanese Rolling Stock Export Co. of Tokyo, which asked $81,470 per locomotive. The only American bidder is Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton Corp. of Philadelphia, which set a figure of $178,200.

It was not immediately clear what firms would participate in the contracts for railway cars. These bids were complicated by separate offers on various components of the cars and by figures keyed to the number of units to be manufactured. Among the lower bidders were Japanese, British and Belgian firms.

Stassen said "some of the railroad car orders may go to some European countries."

World's Population Skyrockets Increases 36.5 Million A Year

ROME (AP)—At the present rate of population increase, all mankind could have descended from Adam and Eve in only 24 centuries, world scientists of 70 nations were told here Friday.

That would have placed the Garden of Eden back only to four centuries before Christ, whereas a report of the U. N. population division said "actually, it is known that human beings have peopled the earth for thousands of centuries."

The reason, the report said, is that never before in history has the world's population skyrocketed at anything like the present rate.

During the past 300 years, since 1650, the report showed, the world's population has increased by more than five times.

"And it appears that the epoch of accelerating world population growth, which can be traced back for 300 years, has not yet reached its climax," it said.

Five years ago the world's population gain was estimated at 25 million a year. Now, the scientists were told, it has risen to roughly 36½ million a year.

On the basis of a present population of 2½ billion, that means the world's population will double again in less than a century.

Of growth by continents the report noted:

"The population of Asia probably has grown the most steadily, though never at a very rapid rate. The population of Europe grew most rapidly in the latter half of the 19th century, but somewhat less rapidly in more recent times. Whether the population of Africa before 1850 was increasing or not cannot now be known, but it is most probable that substantial growth has begun only in recent times."

"The growth of the combined population of the Americas during the past 200 years has been prodigious, but whereas North American population grew most rapidly between 1750 and 1900, its rate of growth has more recently been surpassed by Latin America."

The report said that although there has been some increase in world birth rate over the past centuries, the greatest factor in the present increase of world population can be attributed to the progress of science in prolonging life.

President Signs Espionage Act, Vetoes Water Diversion Bill

Arrest French Woman Diplomat On Spy Charge

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—France's former vice consul in Australia, a vivacious 45-year-old widow who worked for the French resistance in World War II, has been arrested on charges of aiding the onetime Soviet agent Vladimir Petrov.

French Ambassador Louis Roche, disclosing the arrest, said Mrs. Rose-Marie Ollier gave vital information on Australian arms shipments to Indochina to Petrov while he was head of a Soviet espionage ring in this country.

Roche said Mrs. Ollier was suspended from her job in May and sent to Noumea, capital of the French island of New Caledonia, 900 miles east of Australia, where one of her two sons attends college. She was visiting him when French authorities took her into custody 12 days ago.

Mrs. Ollier, described as a short, vivacious woman, is a law and political science graduate who began working for the French government in Syria in 1934. She is currently held at Noumea to be returned to France by ship.

Petrov is the former third secretary of the Soviet Embassy who obtained asylum in Australia last spring with an offer to disclose the Royal Espionage Commission secret hearing on Mr. Ollier's case, held in Melbourne July 20, was released Friday.

Petrov declared Mrs. Ollier told him of Australian shipments to French authorities in Indochina at seven or eight meetings, the last on March 8 this year. He said he had passed on her information to Moscow.

Both Petrov and his wife told the commission that Mrs. Ollier had been given a wristwatch worth $78.75 bought from Soviet MVD funds.

Rail Equipment Order Split 50-50 U.S., Foreign Firms

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Foreign Operations Administration announced Friday a 50-50 split of a big railway equipment order between low-bidding foreign producers and American firms whose offers ranged up to twice the foreign bids.

Foreign-Aid Director Harold E. Stassen, telling a news conference of the "decision in principle," said its effect would be to add about seven million dollars to the estimated 20-million-dollar cost of 100 locomotives and 5,000 freight cars for India.

Depressed employment in the U. S. railway equipment industry, Stassen said, was the determining consideration. American manufacturers and labor unions have been clamoring for the business.

Stassen said half the locomotives will be ordered from a Japanese firm, half from an American company. Gives Four Reasons For Action

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower vetoed Friday a bill which would have allowed Illinois and the Chicago Sanitary District to divert more water from Lake Michigan.

The President issued a memorandum of disapproval at the Summer White House in Denver giving four reasons for his actions.

They were:

1. "Existing diversions are adequate for navigation on the Illinois Waterway and Mississippi."

2. "All methods of control of lake levels and protection of property on the Great Lakes should be considered before arbitrarily proceeding with the proposed increased diversion."

3. "The diversions were authorized without reference to negotiations with Canada."

4. "The legitimate interests of other states affected by the diversion may be adversely affected."

The bill, the memorandum explained, would have authorized Illinois and the Sanitary District of Chicago an annual average of 2,600 cubic feet of water per second for three years from Lake Michigan into the Illinois Waterway, in addition to all domestic pumpage.

The withdrawals would have been carried out under the direction of the secretary of the Army.

The measure, the President said, would divert 1,000 more cubic feet of water per second than is permitted under a 1930 decree of the Supreme Court.

The increased diversion was sought by officials of Chicago and neighboring communities on the Illinois Waterway as a means of diluting the treated sewage which flows into the Illinois and Mississippi River systems. Engineers contended that the additional fresh water would reduce the high nitrogen content of the water in the Chicago-Joliet areas and make conditions better all along the waterway.

There has been opposition from Illinois River communities which have contended the increased flow would merely set up farther downstream unpleasant conditions which now occur in warm dry weather near Brandon Locks in the Joliet area. There also has been opposition on the ground the added flow would inundate bottomlands reclaimed for farming.

Commander Of Fort At Dien Bien Phu Freed By Reds

PARIS (Saturday) (AP)—The French News Agency reported Brig. Gen. Christian de Castries, commander of the fallen Dien Bien Phu fortress, was freed by the Reds Friday in the Indochina prisoner exchange.

De Castries' wife, Jacqueline, was waiting for him in Paris, where she returned after his capture. She had asked permission to return to Saigon to greet him but the government sidetracked the request because it would have been unable to comply with similar requests from wives of other captured officers.

De Castries was captured by the Communist-led Vietminh rebels May 7 when Dien Bien Phu fell to mass attacks. He was the highest ranking French officer captured during the nearly eight years of war.

The last message from De Castries at Dien Bien Phu said: "We will fight to the end. Au revoir, mon general. Vive la France."

De Castries was reported buoyant until the end of the defense of Dien Bien Phu, striding through the fortress with a riding crop in his hand and wearing a red African cavalryman's cap instead of a steel helmet.

It was De Castries' second experience as a war prisoner. The Nazis captured him early in World War II after he had been badly wounded in attempting to lead 60 men from a German encirclement. He escaped shortly afterward, however.

Philippines Ask U.S. To Retaliate Quickly If Islands Attacked

MANILA (Saturday) (AP)—Foreign affairs chiefs of the United States and the Philippine Islands Saturday began a series of conferences aimed at deciding one vital question: How quickly will Uncle Sam come running if the Philippines are attacked again?

The conference between U. S. Secretary of State Dulles and Carlos P. Garcia, Philippines vice president and foreign minister, will be preliminary to the Southeast Asia security conference beginning Monday.

Dulles, who arrived late Friday, and Garcia meet at the Philippine-United States Council established under provisions of the mutual defense treaty signed Aug. 30, 1951.

Garcia is expected to ask Dulles to guarantee immediate U. S. retaliatory action—without waiting for Congress to act—in the event of attack upon the Philippines.

If Garcia gets the commitment, he wants, the Philippines are expected to set pedal their demands for an Asian equivalent of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization when the eight-nation security conference opens here Monday. The Philippines have been leaders in the move for a collective security pact for Southeast Asia.

The conference is aimed at halting Communist aggression in this area.

Britain, Australia, New Zealand, Pakistan, Thailand, France and the United States representatives are attending. India, Ceylon, Burma and Indonesia are not. But despite their absence, delegates here are optimistic that this conference will lead to an Asian organization which will be a bulwark to the free world.

Although the Philippines and the United States have a mutual defense pact, there is a growing fear here of war and government leaders want better assurance of help than they now have.

Under the present pact the United States would not come to the help of the Philippines until Congress had declared war. In an age of atomic and hydrogen bombs, officials here fear such help might come too late.

American Cookery Grows Up Scores 2nd Over Top Chefs

WASHINGTON (AP)—American cooking, a group of experts proudly announced Friday, now has reached the spot where it equals or surpasses anything produced anywhere else in the world.

"Once they thought of us abroad as a country of hamburgers and frankfurters," said chef Peter R. Berrini of Worcester, Mass. "Now they know better."

The reason for this international cuisine outburst: American chefs, competing in Switzerland, came in second, only a point behind first place Germany.

This triumph, scored only last week, is being properly celebrated by 200 of the nation's top chefs, here for the 25th anniversary convention of the American Culinary Federation.

Berrini, a member of the federation's board of directors, said the American showing was a tremendous shock to European epicures, who have always felt they had the only proper training grounds for topflight chefs.

"And the best of it is," Berrini said, "the man who won the most points is a chef from right here in Washington, who was trained right here in this country."

Only one shadow darkens the chefs' happiness. Immigration laws have cut down the supply of talent from abroad, and the native stock, while it has done well when it tried it, hasn't been smitten with the cook stove.

A heated discussion then ensued as to why this was so. After considerable gesturing, and some animated talks with a number of accents, the consensus seemed to be: American boys simply haven't yet learned the joys of being a chef.

Authorizes Death For Peacetime Spying

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower Friday signed legislation authorizing the death penalty for peacetime espionage—a crime punishable heretofore by a maximum jail sentence of 30 years.

The bill Eisenhower wrote into law at the Summer White House was next to the last of a series of anti-Communist and subversion control measures requested by the administration and approved by the President.

Still to be signed—and the President has announced he will do so—is a bill which would strip citizenship from those advocating overthrow of the government by force and violence.

Approval of the espionage bill and 10 other pieces of legislation Friday brought to 485 the total number of bills Eisenhower has signed since the start of his Colorado vacation Aug. 21. He has killed 22 by pocket veto.

The President's latest action left only seven bills on his desk awaiting action. An aide said Eisenhower would dispose of those by tomorrow.

Among them is an appropriation bill carrying $2,781,499,816 in foreign aid funds to help bolster the free world against Communist aggression. That is $557,049,889 less than the administration requested.

In other developments at the President's working vacation headquarters Friday:

1. Eisenhower signed an executive order designed to clarify and strengthen provisions of the standard hiring and firing nondiscrimination clause included in government contracts with private industry. The new language to be included in such contracts more specifically defines prohibited employment practices based on race, color, religion or national origin.

2. The President issued an appeal for safe driving over the Labor Day weekend. He deplored what he termed a "grim forecast" by experts that 390 Americans will lose their lives in traffic accidents over the holiday, and declared: "Let's fool the experts. Let's all be alive next Tuesday."

The espionage bill makes peacetime spying a capital offense. It rewrites the old law to provide that in war or peace espionage shall be punishable by death in cases where the courts so decide.

The bill also authorizes life imprisonment, or any lesser jail sentence, for peacetime espionage—as compared with the maximum jail term of 30 years heretofore.

Until Eisenhower acted Friday, only wartime espionage was punishable by death. The wartime penalty also can be up to 30 years imprisonment.

The bill Eisenhower approved also removes the 10-year statute of limitation covering prosecution in cases of peacetime espionage.

Remove Part Of Knife Blade From Man's Skull

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Surgeons at Einstein Medical Center Friday removed part of a 3½-inch knife blade imbedded in a man's head for 28 years.

The patient was Harry Stone, 44-year-old chemical worker, who went to the hospital last Friday complaining of a severe headache which had plagued him for the past few years.

X-rays disclosed the presence of the knife blade. Stone was puzzled at first, then recalled he had been stabbed in a street fight 28 years ago. Doctors surmised his assailant's knife blade was broken off and passed up the paranasal sinus—an air space behind the nose.

The piece of steel became imbedded in bone just before it reached the brain, and—held motionless—did no more damage.

In the middle of the operation Friday the corroded knife blade broke and the surgeons were able to remove a 2-inch section before deciding to postpone the remainder of the operation until Saturday.

The doctors said they considered it a million to one chance that the blade could penetrate so deep without doing serious damage.

A big whaling expedition may catch $8,400,000 worth of whales in a few weeks in the Antarctic.

Forecast for Jacksonville and vicinity: Partly cloudy and warm Saturday and Sunday. High Saturday low 90s, low Saturday night around 70, high Sunday mid 90s.

HE WAS FREE WORLD'S FRIEND

One of the great tragedies of war is that it can leave many nations impoverished not only in substance but in spirit. It can rob them of their potential of leadership.

Both Europe and Asia suffered this impoverishment after World War II. In some places, it was almost impossible to find good leaders with a background of experience and at the same time a clear record of opposition to our recent enemies.

Liberals and even moderate conservatives often were pained at the grubby alliances the West felt itself forced to make to assist certain countries back toward health and stability. But sometimes a reactionary or a onetime collaborator was the only choice short of yielding the palm to the advancing Communist empire.

Happily for the West, and especially for America, there were outstanding exceptions to this dreary pattern. Occasionally, real leaders were found, men who had all the qualities and prerequisites and who seemed to be made for these difficult times.

Such a man was the late, honored Ernst Reuter, doughty mayor of West Berlin, who stood up to the Communists while under their very noses. Such a man is Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany, firm friend of the West, of European unity, and of peace.

Such a man also was Alcide de Gasperi of Italy, until mid-1953 his country's sterling and courageous postwar premier. His death, evidently brought on by characteristic worry over the future of various projects he favored for the security and welfare of Europe, is a deep loss to the cause of freedom.

De Gasperi began battling in that cause long ago. Benito Mussolini imprisoned him for anti-Fascist activities, and later on he sought refuge in the Vatican against further harassment.

This hard school trained him well for the tasks of post-war leadership in the postwar days when a shaky Italian republic was seeking to re-establish itself. He held the fort stoutly against both Monarchists and powerful Communists. From 1945 to 1953 he was the principal factor in regaining for Italy the world respect it had lost through the depredations and antics of Mussolini. And he was a great aid in lifting the country back to solid ground.

Naturally enough he was a strong partisan of such anti-Communist structures as NATO and the pending European army project. His loss of the leadership last year was a sore disappointment to the free world, and there was always the hope that despite his 73 years he might one day return to the premier's post.

With pride and gratitude, Italy may look back upon the man who was the architect of its recovery and its revival of spirit, and who contributed so much to the strength of the free world in its time of greatest trial.

NEW YORK (AP) — Well, guess what we have now to spur lagging romances?

Electrical beauty engineering. Yes, sir, that's right — electrical beauty engineering.

Many a beautiful courtship is broken up because the couple involved see too much of each other. For example:

Elsie, fortune she has found fame and fortune she has found fame a typewriter, lays a trap for Elmer, her reluctant admirer.

She invites him to her apartment, sets him abaze with a few dry martinis, and banks the fire with a fine home cooked meal. She then lures him to the sofa. Elmer, soggy with comfort and secretly weary of bachelorhood, is ready to pop the question.

But he looks across the sofa at Elsie and what does he see? Under the cruelly bright floor lamp Elsie's hair looks like wires, each of her 1,312 freckles stand out like checkers on a checkerboard, and Elmer unconsciously is counting chin — one, two, three, "Oh, no," he mutters, "not that!" Elsie is lucky if he doesn't jump up and race for the door.

Or, to be gallant about it, let's take it from Elsie's standpoint. She gazes across the sofa and what does she see? Are those hairs growing out of Elmer's ears — or feathers? Even more important, are those things really ears, or flanges? What does he use them for? To hear with — or to fan himself on warm days? Elsie decides she'd rather look at a typewriter the rest of her life than those ears.

In either case the romance melts away because they have seen each other's defects too clearly too soon. So now there's a little gadget on the market called a Luxtrol. Powerstat wall dimmer. It operates on the theory that if love isn't blind, it at least should be near-sighted. By turning a little knob Elsie can make the light so soft and low her freckles become inviting mysteries and her three chins merge into one. Elmer's ears recede into the background.

Great little gadget for the hostess too. Saves her old man arm strain from lighting dinner candles. By turning the knob far enough the hostess can make the light so dim her guests may suspect how thin the steaks are, but they can't prove it unless they are cadish enough to strike a match and hold it close to the plate.

Communication

Dear Editor:

The opinion that Cardinal Stritch was narrow minded in his statement of reasons why Catholics would not be represented in the Evanston conference has frequently been expressed by some during the past few weeks. In order to explain his position, I am quoting here from Dr. Everett R. Clinchy, Presbyterian minister, president of the World Brotherhood and of the National Conference of Christians and Jews:

"Cardinal Stritch's pastoral letter does nothing more than restate the traditional Catholic teachings on the reasonable basis of co-operation, a position familiar to me from my long years with the National Conference of Christians and Jews and one that I have insisted should guide the activities of World Brotherhood."

"I view the Cardinal's statement as constructive affirmative, and a healthy clarification for both Protestants and Catholics. Personally, I never could understand why people had to belong to the same Church (nor discuss why they didn't) before being able to work together as citizens to improve housing conditions, to remove prejudices from textbooks, or to obtain justice for minority groups."

Dr. Clinchy also expressed the belief that "in matters of doctrine and dogma there can be no compromise. The notion that all religions are equally valid, the idea that all Churches are equally true imply an indifference which the World Brotherhood and the American National Conference of Christians and Jews formally disavow."

We should be especially careful at this time about accepting from Christian countries any type of Christian ideals and principles. They have fallen into difficulties from which they cannot extricate themselves. Let us not follow them into their maelstrom.

Very sincerely yours,
Margaret D. Perry

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — One grand wrangle — it will last for months, perhaps for years, and could split the Allies — is shaping up over France and West Germany.

This is a look at the problem: Nine years after the war West Germany is not free. Troops of the United States, Britain and France still occupy the country. The three powers have veto rights over important actions of the German government.

The United States and Britain think the time has come to let Germany have more, if not complete, independence. The Germans are demanding full independence. The United States and Britain probably won't accept that.

They may want to retain emergency rights. That is, they may want to be able to take over Germany if the Communists try to seize power by force.

The Germans' demand for full independence may be for bargaining purposes. They have a good bargaining position. The United States and Britain want them to remain to help in the defense of Europe.

The Germans say they want full independence before talking of re-arming. The two allies have to be careful not to alienate the West Germans to the point of turning them toward Russia or making them balk at taking part in Western defense.

At the same time, in wanting to rearm the Germans, the United States and Britain must face a question: Is there some way to limit German rearmament so she cannot again become a military menace to her neighbors?

The French have already expressed fear of a rearmaged Germany. Can the United States and Britain persuade the French to let Germany rearm?

Or, if the United States and Britain and their allies on the Continent insist on rearming Germany over French protests, will the French people be antagonized to the point of wrecking the Western alliance with the French?

The problem of the United States and Britain is how to satisfy both the Germans and the French without losing the alliance of either.

The French are in a position to throw a monkey wrench in American and British effort to grant German sovereignty. Since the French occupy part of the country they could continue to occupy it. How then could the United States and Britain say Germany had sovereignty?

In 1949 the Western Allies created NATO, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. They set up a general staff to plan Western Europe's defenses. Under NATO they agreed to help one another in case any one of them was attacked.

But there was a weak spot: What was needed was a truly strong European army, already set up and waiting, in case Russia attacked. There was general agreement such an army, to be strong enough, needed German troops.

The Allies thought they found a solution: set up a single European army called EDC, the European Defense Community — in which six European countries including France and Germany, would place their troops under a single command.

The French stalled and this week killed EDC altogether. That left the Western Allies where they were when they set up NATO five years ago: no single European army and no rearmaged Germany.

Now the United States and Britain are talking of letting Germany rearm and become a member of NATO, which now has 14 member nations including the United States, Britain and France.

But France is in a good spot to throw a monkey wrench in that too. No new nation can become a NATO member unless all 14 present members approve.

If France used that veto to keep Germany out of NATO, the United States and Britain would have to find some other solution or try to change the NATO rules. That might cost them their French ally. If they don't let Germany rearm, they may lose their German ally.

Local Lesions in the Mouth May Be Successfully Treated With Radium

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

It is perhaps unnecessary to devote a full column to the subject of today's first inquiry although several correspondents have inquired about it.

Q—What is histoplasmosis? I have heard of this disease but have been unable to find anything about the symptoms, treatment or dangers.

A—This is a widespread but not extremely common infectious disease. It seems to be most concentrated in the central Mississippi and Ohio River valleys. The responsible parasite, frequently attacks the lungs without causing symptoms and may show up in the mouth, throat, or elsewhere. The disease usually results in enlargement of some of the lymph nodes and can usually be diagnosed either by a skin test or a test of the blood.

Q—Please give me some information on geographic tongue.

A—Geographic tongue is considered relatively normal. It is characterized by slightly elevated, irregular, gray rings surrounded by reddish areas on certain portions of the tongue. It tends to come and go and may make the tongue somewhat sensitive but is of little consequence and does not require treatment.

Q—Is it injurious to take mineral oil every night upon retiring? E. M.

A—It is not advisable. It may irritate the intestines and interfere with the absorption of certain vitamins.

Q—How much water should a person drink every day for good health? Should one leave it up to nature or force oneself to drink when not thirsty?

A—Assuming no disorder in which water should be restricted or increased, the thirst is a good guide as to how much to drink.

Q—Are a Wasserman test and a Mazzini test used for the same purpose?

A—Yes, both are used to test for the presence of syphilis.

Q—Is there anything I can do to keep my husband from drinking beer which he does all of the time and does not eat?

A—It is doubtful that there is any drug which you can put in his beer which will make him stop. If he continues to drink beer and not eat, he almost certainly will make him sick. Perhaps you can persuade him to get help from a psychiatrist or to join Alcoholics Anonymous.

Q—What is the effect of the drug called paraldehyde on the nerves?

A—This has some pain-relieving properties and tends to relieve "nervous tension."

Q—What exercises can one take to reduce the size of the knees and hips?

A—There are no exercises that are considered effective in this respect.

What Allies Can We Count On if Reds Attack Formosa

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The shadow of a new Communist aggression in the Far East hangs over the eight anti-Communist nations' Southeast Asia conference convening in Manila, Sept. 6.

It is the Red Chinese threat to "liberate" Formosa from the Nationalist Chinese. This government of Chiang Kai-shek, incidentally, is not one of the eight whose foreign ministers are meeting in the Philippines.

Most American military and diplomatic authorities and the Chinese Nationalist leaders have analyzed Red China's propaganda. Nevertheless, the prospect of more active hit-and-run raids by the two opposing Chinese forces raises some serious questions for the United States. And these questions cannot be ignored.

While Red China's naval forces and landing craft are unknown quantities, the Communists do have the jet aircraft and the land forces to launch an invasion of Formosa. The cease-fire in Korea and the new truce in Indo-China have eased the pressure on Red China's military resources. From the Communist point of view, an attack on Formosa would be a logical next move in its ambitious conquest of all Southeast Asia.

Any New Action in this theater would almost automatically involve the United States in a direct war with Red China. For as President Eisenhower pointed out, any attack by Red China against Formosa would first have to run over the U. S. Seventh Fleet.

At first glance, it might seem that if the Communists wanted to start World War III, this would be an easy place to do it. But on second thought, there are good reasons to believe that this action might be limited even more than the Korean action.

What allies could the United States count on in case this country became involved in a war with Red China?

The Nationalist Chinese forces would be available, of course. They have been variously estimated at from 350,000 to 400,000. But they would fight it out.

South Korea would be willing to help, but her forces might be more usefully employed on a second front. Even for this they would still require American air support and all their military supplies.

Thailand likewise might be willing to help, but would need all her resources to defend her own borders against Red China.

Australia and New Zealand are tied to the United States in the ANZUS pact. But an attack on Formosa by Red China would not technically be an attack against the United States.

Japan is still unarmed. Great Britain Does Not even recognize Formosa and the British do recognize Red China, so no help could be counted on.

The French have just suffered a severe setback from the Red Chinese in Viet-Nam and have no stomach for more action in this area. To join in a new war against Red China might only reopen the old one.

Under all these circumstances, the United Nations could hardly be expected to act as resolutely on an aggression against Formosa as they did when the Communists first launched their attack on South Korea.

Ethiopia, Greece and Turkey and even Colombia might offer token forces, as they did in Korea, but that's about all.

The line up now the United States would pretty much have to go it alone. For those who have long advocated that the United States should have liberated China mainland from the Communists at the end of World War II, from 350,000 to 400,000. But they would fight it out.

Sunday's vegetables should be a little better, a little out of the ordinary. Our Los Angeles friend, Helen Goodrich, a genius at vegetable cookery, worked up these recipes with Sunday dinner in mind.

Quick-Cooked Buttered Celery (4 servings)
Dice 1 medium stalk celery. Cook, covered in 1-inch boiling, salted water until crisp, tender, about 15 to 20 minutes. Serve drenched with melted butter or margarine and seasoned with salt and pepper.

Continental Celery (4 servings)
One medium stalk celery, 1 cup butter or margarine, salt, pinch of sugar, iceberg lettuce leaves.

Remove leaves and trim roots from celery. Wash thoroughly, using a brush to remove sand. Dice the branches. Put butter or margarine in bottom of saucepan, preferably a heavy one. Add diced celery, salt and sugar. Cover with wet lid on pan, but cook over very low heat until celery is just tender, about 20 minutes.

Scalloped Potatoes 'n' Carrots (4 servings)
Four medium-sized potatoes, peeled and thinly sliced, 2 large carrots, shredded or very thinly sliced, 1 medium-sized dry onion, finely chopped or 2 green onions, finely cut, tons and all, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk, salt and pepper to taste.

In a well-greased casserole, arrange layer of potato slices, sprinkling each layer with carrots and onion. Melt butter or margarine and blend in flour. Add milk and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture is thickened and smooth. Season with salt and pepper and pour over potatoes. Bake, covered, in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 45 minutes. Uncover and bake 45 minutes longer, or until potatoes are tender and top is delicately browned.

SUNDAY'S DINNER: Melon cup, roast, scalloped top of beef, pan gravy, rolled potatoes and carrots, continental celery, enriched bread, butter or margarine, sliced "beefsteak" tomatoes with minced parsley, peach turnover, coffee, tea, or milk.

Manners Make Friends

One woman says that when a neighbor runs in "for a minute" and stays an hour when she has work to do, she usually thinks up some excuse for getting her out into the yard. "You must see my yellow roses," or "I'd like your advice on what to do about my lilac." Whatever the excuse, once the lingering guest is outside, she usually doesn't bother to go back inside.

There's more than one way to skin a cat.

Don't Waste Time on Things Mate Considers Unimportant

The wife who gives herself "E" for effort at trying to be a good wife, but whose husband is still a fault-finder, may be making a fairly common mistake. She may be putting too much time and effort on things that aren't important to her husband to the neglect of things that are important to him.

It doesn't matter how hard a woman works to keep her home neat and shining if at the end of the day she is tired, cross and resentful, and what her husband wants most is a cheerful, happy companion.

It doesn't matter how hard a woman struggles to pinch pennies if she talks so much about how economical she is that her husband feels like a shadow.

DON'T SHOW UP MATE BY DOING HIS WORK
It doesn't matter how hard a woman works to give an impressive party now and then, if her husband is the kind of man who would love to be able to invite friends in on the spur of the moment but is afraid to do so because his wife doesn't want to entertain unless she can put on a production.

It doesn't matter how hard a woman works if the things she usually neglects are the things that are most important to her husband.

And should a woman expect a man to think she is wonderful because she has jumped in and done some job that they both know should be his responsibility. He couldn't feel she was wonderful for having done it without at the same time thinking he was a pretty sorry lot for having let her do it.

Those are just a few illustrations of how a woman can work hard and yet not get the approval she expects from her husband.

FAO Ordered To Reinstate Illinois Man In Former Job

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — A three-member international tribunal today ordered the United Nations
Food and Agriculture Organization in Rome to reinstate Gordon McIntire of Kewanee, Ill., in his $6,000-a-year job, or pay him
$11,000 damages for wrongful dismissal.
McIntire appealed to the tribunal last week against his dismissal in 1952, which he declared was a direct result of intervention by the U. S. Department of State. He had sought $30,000 compensation.
McIntire told the tribunal he had been promised a five-year contract at $6,000 a year, but was not confirmed in this position after Norris E. Dodd, then director general of FAO, had received a confidential letter about him from the State Department.
The tribunal asked that the letter, signed by Asst. Secretary of State John Hickerson, be produced at the hearing. FAO attorneys refused, saying disclosure of the letter would be "a violation of diplomatic usage."
The tribunal's finding today declared "the existence of a secret document concerning (McIntire), the content of which was unknown to him and against which he was thus unable to defend himself, clearly violates an equitable application of the (FAO) statute and causes harm to the interests not only of the entire staff, but to those of justice itself."
The tribunal found McIntire had been dismissed not for "inadequate services," as claimed by FAO but for "personal considerations unrelated to the reasons stated." The FAO was ordered either to reinstate him or pay him 15 months' salary plus interest, and $3,000 damages and expenses.
The FAO council can appeal to the International Court of Justice.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS Jr.
Associated Press News Analyst
The British press, up until Thursday, has been almost as critical as the American of the visit to Moscow and Peiping by Labor party leaders.
On Thursday, former Prime Minister Attlee came out of Red China with the word that he had not been bamboozled, and several of the big London papers heaved
a sigh of relief.
Friday, however, Aneurin Bevan, leader of the Laborite left wing and second most powerful man in the party, who accompanied Atlee, gave some advice to Japan's two Socialist parties.
He advocated "peaceful coexistence," using the Russian propaganda phrase which was carefully avoided by the World Council of Churches in its recent resolution suggesting a more intensive search for a means by which East and West could "live together."
He said he and the Laborite group was "trying to aid those forces which are working for peaceful coexistence." That's exactly the Russian terminology, always accompanied by either imference or statement that the United States is leading the war forces.
Bevan's juxtaposition of this statement with another, an attack on the Dulles plan for Southeast Asia defense treaty, will be interpreted throughout Asia as a similar inference.
The fiery Welshman said he was "opposed to alliances in any area which exclude other nations or groups of nations." That might be explained away as a sop to the fact that Japan is being omitted from SEATO. Taken against his background, his recent trip to the Red Chinese counterproposal for an all-Asia pact, such an explanation would not be sufficient.
Bevan has obviously swallowed the Red line.
This is not to say that Bevan
is any more anti-American or pro-Russian than he was before. He is not accused by objective observers of being a Communist. But his trip and his pronouncements happen to come at a time when they dovetail into a big Red propaganda campaign.
The chief danger of such visits as that of the Attlee group, however, is that, while the visitors have some power at home, they have no official standing, yet are capable of creating misunderstanding which officials then have to handle.

Ex-Husband Killed As He Enters Home Of Remarried Wife

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—Herman S. Freeman, 34-year-old East St. Louis contractor, was shot to death Thursday night when he forced his way into his former wife's home here.
Police said Clarence O. Moody, 43-year-old sheetmetal worker who married the victim's former wife nine days ago, admitted the shooting.
Mrs. Moody told officers Freeman forced a locked screen door open and started to come inside their home but was forced out by her husband, Freeman came back in, officers quoted her as saying, and Moody shot him through the left chest with a .38 caliber revolver.
Mrs. Moody said she and Freeman were divorced in 1947 and that she had attended a court hearing Thursday seeking an injunction to stop him from annoying her.

Bobo Has 'Nothing To Report' About Wedding Rumors

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobo Rockefeller and Reno hotel man Charles W.
Mapes Jr. aren't confirming or denying reports that they are headed for the altar.
At least that was the situation
Thursday night after Mapes attended a dinner party for eight given by Bobo at her Park Avenue home.
Mapes, 34, and Bobo, 37, were friends in Reno, where last month she obtained a divorce and a reported six-million-dollar settlement from Winthrop Rockefeller.
Mapes, a bachelor and son of a Nevada cattle baron, said Thursday he was in New York "on short business trip" but had this to say concerning wedding rumors:
"Honestly, I don't think there is a story for you yet. I don't think we have any set plans. I do think Barbara is a lovely girl."

MAN SLAUGHTERED IN WIDOW'S DROWNING

MAUSTON, Wis. (AP)—James Rhodes, 29, Rockford, Ill., was bound over to Circuit Court for trial at an unset date on a charge of manslaughter in the drowning of Mrs. Eva Miner, 46, local widow,
Aug. 2.
But County Judge William R.
Curran, dismissed the same charge against Rhodes' wife, Clara, 25, for lack of evidence. The Rhodes voluntarily told Illinois authorities Aug.
3 that Mrs. Miner had jumped from their auto on a bridge near Mauston after an argument.

Ecuador Sends Out Planes, Ships To Keep Off Whalers

QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — Ecuador announced Thursday night it had sent out warships and army planes to keep a fleet of 16 whalers from fishing within 200 miles of this South American country's coastline.
Government General Secretary
Manuel Araujo said that a group of ships assumed to be those of Greek-born shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis were sighted in Ecuadorean territorial waters. Ecuador, along with Peru and Chile, contend these extend 200 miles in the Pacific.
"Units of the navy and planes of the Ecuadorean army have gone out to prevent clandestine fishing and enforce respect for the national sovereignty," Araujo said.
He gave no further details.
Onassis' fleet, which flies the Panamanian flag, cleared the Panama Canal last week to hunt for whales in the South Pacific. Peru, Ecuador's southern neighbor, reportedly already has warships patrolling her waters to keep the foreign ships out.
Many international law authorities contend that sovereignty ends 12 miles from a country's coast line.

I AM AN

ENGINEER

I am an engineer and this is my family. We have much to be thankful for—good health, our good country, a comfortable home, a good job and good friends and neighbors.

My greatest pride and happiness comes from my home and my family—Susie, my wife, and little Susie and John. We have ups and downs, like other families, but on the whole we fare pretty well. Best of all, we have each other. I read an article in a magazine which said no nation could be completely destroyed which maintained the integrity of its homes. Nations begin to decay when they lose the stabilizing influence of the family.

That is not going to happen to our home if we can help it, and I think we can. We try to make it the best place on earth for each other and a pillar of strength for our community and country. We laid its foundations in God and religion.

Families that are bound together by love and religion do not break up. These ties grow stronger with the passing years. So we go to Church and worship God, and put our lives and hopes in His hands.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

You'll stay proud of Chevrolet's lasting good looks

Other low-priced cars just don't have the air of quality you see in Chevrolet. And if you like Chevrolet's looks now, you'll like its looks always. For there's fine design in those clean and smoothly curved lines (no "boxy" look about Chevrolet!). And fine design, you know, never really goes out of style.

You'll enjoy exclusive features for finer motoring

Here's the only low-priced car with Body by Fisher. Here's the highest-compression power of any leading low-priced car, for more ginger in the going and more miles out of the gas. Here are the biggest brakes and the only full-length box-girder frame in the low-price field. Only Chevrolet gives you that smoother, softer Unitized Knee-Action ride—and it's even the only car in its field with Safety Plate Glass in all windows of sedans and coupes!

You save when you buy and when you trade

Even so, Chevrolet is priced below all other lines of cars. (That's possible because Chevrolet builds the most, and can build 'em better to sell for less.) And at trade-in time, you'll be ahead again from Chevrolet's traditionally higher resale value!

You'll get a special deal right now

Right now, we're in a position to give you the deal of the year on a new Chevrolet. Come in and let us show you how much you'll gain by buying now!

Now's the time to buy!

Squirrel, Dove Season Opens

The squirrel and dove hunting season has opened with the usual bang on the outskirts of the city. The dove season lasts for 35 days, but it has been a noticeable fact in this area that after the first ten days the doves have thinned out; they don't like being molested.

RETIRED, BUT ACTIVE

MOST MEN, when they retire, try to take it easy, but not 75-year-old George Eagar, who serves as a forest ranger in the Seventh Lake area of the Adirondacks. George, a retired electrical engineer, and his wife live in a comfortable tent in the woods. They use oil lamps for illumination and wood for fuel. They keep in touch with the "outside world" with a battery-powered radio. George goes into town twice a week to pick up mail and provisions. His duties include helping campers find sites, checking to see that fires are out and enforcing sanitation rules. When he isn't working, George goes fishing.

Yanks Five Run Fifth Sparks 9-2 Win Over Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — The New York Yankees, ever alert for the big break, played one mental lapse into a five-run fifth inning Friday night and went on to beat the Washington Senators 9-2 as Jim Konstanty scored his first American League victory.

The Yankees wrapped it up in the fifth after an ex-Yank, shortstop Jerry Snyder, miscalculated Mickey Mantle's blazing speed.

The Senators took a 2-1 lead in the fifth behind Chuck Stobbs. With one out, Bob Cerv batted for starter Harry Byrd and hit a double. Stobbs struck out Irv Noren but Hank Bauer beat out an infield hit.

Mantle singled in Cerv and then Yogi Berra hit a routine grounder to Snyder. For some reason, Snyder elected for a force play on Mantle rather than take the easy throw to first. Mantle slid into second safely.

The Yankees then unloaded three straight hits, knocking out Stobbs and salting away the ball game.

Illinois Loses 210-Pound Center

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Jim Minor, 210-pound junior center of Chicago, probably is lost for the season with a shoulder injury. Coach Ray Eliot of Illinois said Friday.

"It's highly improbable that he ever will play any more football for us," Eliot said. "He was our No. 2 center and ready for varsity action after a year's experience as a reserve."

Minor had been troubled by dislocation of the right shoulder and underwent an operation last spring. On first contact work this fall he again had a dislocation.

League Contenders Decide On Series Ticket Plans

By TED SMITHS
NEW YORK (AP) — Commissioners Ford Frick and the American and National League contenders decided Friday to keep ticket prices for the World Series the same as in 1953, and to open the series, as expected, in the National League park Wednesday, Sept. 29.

If a playoff is required in either or both leagues, one day will intervene between its finish and the start of the series. Both races are close enough to indicate its possibility. The National League settles a tie with the best two-out-of-three games, and the American League with a single game.

Ticket prices will be $10 for box seats, $7 for reserved seats, $4 for standing room, and $2 for the bleachers. On all games played in New York or Brooklyn a 5 per cent city sales tax must be added. The Giants announced no box seats will be sold publicly since all have been allocated to regular season ticket holders.

The series, a best four-out-of-seven affair, will follow the usual at 2:05 p.m.

SPORTS TRAIL

By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK (AP) — A barroom bouncer would have said "hit the road, bum," and let it go at that, but Gus Lesnevich managed to get the same idea across to Ezzard Charles without such a subtle approach.

Lesnevich is a former light heavyweight boxing champion and among his other achievements he succeeded in getting himself knocked out by this same Charles. That was in 1949, and Gus says he might have won except for the heat, which seemed to descend on him and leave Charles alone, and a cut eye.

Anyway, the two former rivals are friendly now, and Lesnevich would like to see Ezzard regain the heavyweight title in his bout with Rocky Marciano Sept. 15, thus possibly gaining a vicarious satisfaction in the knowledge he was beaten by the same man who beat the great Rocky.

During Gus' visit to Ezzard's training camp, Lesnevich asked the challenger how much road work he did before the June bout with Rocky.

"I went on the road for six miles every day," replied Charles. "Six miles?" yelled Gus. "What did you think you were doing? Training for a 10-round bout? You should start at six miles, work up to 15 and then work back down to six as you reach your peak. That way you're ready to go 15 rounds without running out of gas."

"Well," said Charles, "I tell you what I'll do. I'll go on the road for 10 miles. But I won't do 15."

And so the matter rested. We don't know exactly how many miles Marciano runs every day, but knowing the champion and his zeal for exercise, and also knowing those hills around Grossingers, he must run six miles straight up. Prepares him for those uphill battles, no doubt.

If we were Charles and had his recollection of the savior beating the took from Rocky in June we'd go out on the road and run and run. All in one direction. Should be several hundreds miles away from Rocky by Sept. 15, so the champion couldn't even telegraph his punches.

Tuttle's Single Gives Tigers 4-3 Win Over Orioles

DETROIT (AP)—Bill Tuttle's single to left, scoring pinch-runner Hoot Evers from second, sent across the winning run in the 10th inning Friday night and gave the Detroit Tigers a 4-3 victory over the Baltimore Orioles before 15,611 in Briggs Stadium.

Tuttle's winning hit, a bouncing ball between short and third, gave Steve Gromek his 16th victory against 14 setbacks. He was touched for 13 hits—but walked none.

Howie Fox, who replaced starter Bob Turley in the eighth, suffered his second setback compared to one win.

The Tigers had scored three times in the first two runs counting on Ray Boone's 350-foot triple against the right field screen.

Ham Richardson Upsets Lewis Head At Forest Hills

By WILL GRIMSLEY
FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Young Ham Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., playing the greatest tennis of his career, upset Australia's No. 1 ace, Lewis Head, in a bitter three-hour battle Friday to gain the semifinals of the National Tennis Championships. The scores were 6-4, 7-6, 11-3, 4-6, 6-3.

Three times in the third set after taking the first two, the 21-year-old American intercollegiate champion saw victory snatched from his grasp when the fighting Head fought off match points to win that set at 13-11 then took the next.

But Richardson, a diabetic who takes insulin shots daily, found some new strength from somewhere, cracked Head's service in the sixth game of the final set with two spectacular backhand passing shots and went on to his greatest triumph.

Richardson's brilliant triumph broke an otherwise day of almost solid conquest for the tennis-playing wizards from Australia.

All other matches in the men's division were a round behind Richardson. The defending champion, Tony Trabert of Cincinnati, defeated the Davis Cup captain, Bill Talbert of New York, 7-5, 6-3, 6-0.

Ken Rosewall, Australia's No. 2 Davis Cup star, who defeated Eward Moylan of Trenton, N.J., 6-4, 6-2, 1-6, 6-3; Rex Hartwig of Australia, who beat 40-year-old Gaud nar Mulloy of Miami, Fla., 6-8, 6-4, 6-3, 6-2; and Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., 6-4, 6-3, 7-5 victor over Herbie Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif.

Indians Defeat Sox 3-1 To Keep 3½ Game Lead Over New York

CHICAGO (AP) — Larry Doby pounded a tie-breaking home run high into Comiskey Park's right field stands Friday night, giving the Cleveland Indians a 3-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox and enabling them to maintain their 3½-game American League lead over New York.

Doby's blow, plus some relief-pitching heroics by Mike Garcia, saved the game for Bobby Feller, who emerged with his 12th victory in 15 decisions at the expense of his colleague in the 35-year age bracket, Virgil Trucks.

The Indian outfielder lifted one that barely missed clearing the right field roof with none on in the seventh inning.

It broke a 2-2 tie the Sox had pulled into the previous inning when Jim Rivera also socked a none-on homer.

But Feller wasn't around long to enjoy the advantage. Singles by Nelson Fox and George Kell put Sox on first and third with one out in the Chicago half of the seventh and the aging Feller bowed out in favor of Don Mossi.

College Grid Coaches 'Taken For Ride' Says Sports Editor

ATLANTA (AP)—College football coaches have been "taken for a ride, gangland style" in taking part in the annual Chicago Tribune charity game between college All-Stars and professional teams, the Atlanta Journal sports editor said Friday.

Ed Danforth, Atlanta sports editor, said in his column that survey of college coaches indicates they will forbid any of their number to coach college stars in such games in the future.

Danforth said Jim Tatum, Maryland coach, probably will go down as the last college coach to direct the College All-Stars in the Chicago charity games.

"When the sports editor of the Tribune raved Tatum after the All-Stars were badly mauled by the Detroit Lions 31-6," Danforth wrote, "it penetrated the innocent victims of the system that they had been suckers."

"For $1,000, men like Frank Thomas, Elmer Layden, Eddie Anderson, Carl Snavely, Frank Leahy, Bud Wilkinson, Herman Hickman, Bobby Dodd, undertook to field a team of ex-college men and play a tough, well organized professional team."

"When the pros took the game lightly, the college coaches looked good. When the pros tried, the college coaches looked like chumps."

"For a skimpy check, the college teachers risked their reputations and the reputation of college football in a newspaper charity."

Danforth said that after the last charity game, Arch Ward, sports editor of the Tribune and promoter of the game, called Tatum a blundering coach and announced that from now on, college coaches would have to promise a wide open game.

"No college coach in his right mind would agree to any such obligation and run the risk of being criticized afterward," the Atlanta editor said. "After all, how many successful college teams did Ward ever coach?"

Dittmer's Homer In 12th Gives Braves 3-2 Win

CINCINNATI (AP)—Jack Dittmer hit a 12th-inning, tie-breaking home run Friday night as the Milwaukee Braves defeated the Cincinnati Redlegs, 3-2, in a game interrupted by a 15-minute free-for-all. Two players were thrown out of the game.

Ted Kluszewski hit his 42nd home run of the year with Gus Bell on base in the eighth inning immediately preceding the miniature riot.

The trouble which started at second base and ended at first resulted in Jim Greengrass of the Reds and Johnny Logan of the Braves being ushered to the showers by the umpires. At least three separate fights broke out in the general disorder and almost all the players from both teams were on the field, many of them mixing it up.

The Braves scored first in the sixth inning when Bill Bruton beat out a drag bunt toward first, stole second and came home on a single by Bobby Thomson.

The Braves despite the victory, failed to gain ground on the league-leading New York Giants, who defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers Friday night.

Cubs Edge Cards 4-3 With Baker's Double In Ninth

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Gene Baker's double off the right field screen drove in the tying and winning runs in the ninth inning Friday night as the Chicago Cubs came from behind to edge the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-3. It was the Cards' sixth straight defeat.

The game had been a pitching duel between Card rookie Gordon Jones and southpaw Paul Minner with St. Louis leading 3-1, going into the final frame. The win left Chicago 3½ games behind the sixth-place Birds.

A safe bunt, Joe Garagiola's single and a walk loaded the bases for Chicago in the ninth and the first run came home on a ground out by pinch hitter Steve Bilko. Then Baker delivered his game-winning double.

Minner, lifted for a pinch hitter in the ninth, received credit for the victory, his 11th against nine defeats and his fifth triumph over St. Louis this year without a loss.

Landy Says Time Will Be Clipped

That, he added, would be the absolute limit of human endurance.

Ray Eliot Has Nine Men Fighting For Starting End Berths

CHAMPAIGN, Ill.—Illinois football coaches don't pick their regulars by drawing names out of a hat. But right now that would be as good a way as any to select the starting ends for Illinois' season's opener with tough Penn State in Memorial Stadium Sept. 25.

At least nine candidates stand good chances to wind up in the two flanker posts in this season's Illini starting lineup. This situation results mainly from the loss of last year's regulars, John "Rocky" Ryan and Cliff Waldbeser, and conversion of reserve end Bob Wiman to fullback.

Only one letterman returns at end. He is Steve Nosek, senior from Chicago's Taft high school, who gained his first monogram with Ray Eliot's 1951 Big Ten champions, missed a year of school, then returned to letter with the 1953 championship squad. With Wiman at fullback, Nosek is most experienced of the end candidates. Right now he's rated number one on the right side.

Other eight candidates include returning squad members and some promising sophomores.

Present first team left end is Herb Badal, a junior from Chicago (Sullivan) who was sidelined throughout the 1953 season with a shoulder injury. Badal has been most impressive as a pass receiver, but he's also shown blocking and defensive ability and could be the answer to one of 1954's big problems.

Nosek and Badal will be pressed for their first team spots by other candidates, however.

Returning squad members Dean Willmann, Chicago (Amundsen) senior, Dean Renn, West Frankfort, junior, Jim Dunne, Chicago (Gage Park) junior, and Bob DesEnfants, Chicago (Weber) junior, rate high.

Willmann's strong suit is defense and that could be most important in selection of this year's flankers, since Illini probably will concentrate on their strong running game rather than passing. Renn and Dunne, despite their presence on last year's squad, remain question marks. They are getting opportunity this fall to prove their right to top rating. DesEnfants is ranked number one right end and conclusion of spring drills, mainly on basis of his pass receiving ability, and still remains a strong contender for a regular berth.

Lacking collegiate experience but having definite potential are three of the sophomore crop—Gary Francis, Bloomington, Charlie Butler, Hot Springs, Ark. (Langston), and John Everett, Gary, Ind. (Roosevelt).

Butler, who stands 6-4 and weighs 219, is biggest of the trio. In fact, he's largest of all end candidates. If he shows speed this fall, he could move into the number one spot on the right side. Francis is a rugged two-way workman whose only apparent need is for experience. Everett, although not rating as high as his classmates thus far, has shown capabilities which have impressed coaches.

Three more candidates are included on the roster and they can't be considered out of running for traveling team berths. They are Jim Hiler, Berwyn (Morton) junior who returns to the squad after military service, and sophomore Jack Jordan, Aurora (West), and David Schmidt, Chicago (Steinmetz).

Reds-Braves Have Free-For-All In 8th

CINCINNATI (AP)—Two players were ejected from the Milwaukee Braves-Cincinnati Redlegs baseball game Friday night in a general-free-for-all in the eighth inning.

Jim Greengrass of the Reds and Johnny Logan of Milwaukee were thrown out for their part in the fighting.

Greengrass and Logan mixed it at second base after Jim was forced on a bouncer by Johnny Temple. The umpires restored order temporarily, but fighting broke out at first base a few moments later between Logan and Temple.

Players from both teams streamed from the dugouts to take part in the melee. The game was held up almost 15 minutes by the fighting.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (P)—The stock market ended the week with a pre-holiday showing of strength Friday.

The gains — in many instances substantial — surprised those in Wall Street who had looked for a pre-holiday selloff before the three-day recess over Labor Day.

The rise went to between one and three points while losses were held down to fractions in most cases.

However, volume was light and the market was narrow. Those two things detracted considerably from the price strength.

Most major divisions improved—steels, railroads, oils especially, non-ferrous metals, motors, aircrafts, chemicals, utilities and some textiles.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks added 90 cents at $131.40. It was up 70 cents Thursday.

The most impetus to the average was given by the industrial component up $1.30. The railroads gained 70 cents, and utilities were up 20 cents.

Volume came to 1,630,000 shares as compared with 1,600,000 traded Thursday.

The American Stock Exchange was higher on 640,000 shares as compared with 570,000 shares traded Thursday.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (P)—Railroads tipped the corporate bond market upward Friday as trading diminished.

"Big Board" volume declined to $2,400,000 par value from $2,582,000 Thursday. Dealers said the approaching holiday weekend partly accounted for Friday's session being the dullist in two weeks.

Utilities started downward this morning and the rest of the corporate list was mixed. But by noon, selective demand had firmed most prices and, led by the carriers, the market inched upward. At the close, corporate gains and losses were extremely narrow.

U. S. government bonds were quiet and generally steady.

RYE HITS SEASON'S HIGH. WHEAT ALSO UP

By WILLIAM FERRIS

CHICAGO (P)—A late spurt in rye sent all deliveries of that grain into new seasonal high ground on the Board of Trade Friday. Several wheat futures also reached new seasonal peaks.

While rye was giving the bulls something to cheer about, soybeans were providing entertainment for the bears. Beans had losses extending to around seven cents in the September future at one time and they ended with fair sized declines.

Corn finished firm after some early irregularity while oats, subject to some weekend profit taking, ended with very little price change.

Wheat closed 1 to 2 cents higher, corn 3/4-1 1/2 higher, oats 1/4 lower to 1/4 higher, rye 3/4-4 1/2 higher, soybeans 1 1/4-5 1/2 lower and lard 17 cents lower to 3 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Rye, which has been very strong for the past couple of weeks, got an additional stimulus Friday when export circles reported West Germany had bought 360,000 bushels of Canadian rye. Despite a good deal of talk about potential buying, this was the first concrete foreign purchase reported.

Prior to the West German purchase, the main influence on grains was the regular monthly crop report of C. M. Galvin of Francis I. du Pont & Co. Galvin's estimate of a soybean crop of 336,236,000 bushels was responsible for the persistent selling in that grain.

The corn crop was estimated by Galvin at 2,950,353,000 bushels compared with his estimate a month ago of 3,013,134,000 bushels and the government's 2,824,078,000.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

CHICAGO (P)—Butcher hogs gained 25 to 50 cents while sows held steady Friday as salable receipts, totaling 4,000, fell 1,000 under the advance estimate. It was the third straight day of advance after the market plunged to 1954 lows Tuesday.

Choice 190 to 270-pound butchers sold at $20.75 to $21.25, the top. This top was down $1.00 from last week end but was $1.25 above the Tuesday low. A few light butchers brought $18.75 to $20.75. Sows sold at $16.00 to $20.25.

Salable receipts in the cattle section were limited to 600 head. All classes were quoted nominally steady. A few head of choice and prime steers moved at $23.50 to $27.00, the top.

A few young cows sold up to $15.00. Buyers paid $18.00 to $22.00 for good and choice vealers. Salable receipts in the sheep pens totaled 500. Good and choice native spring lambs sold steady at $18.00 to $19.50. One small package of choice and prime reached $20.00.

EGGS LOWEST IN 13 YEARS

CHICAGO (P)—Egg futures fell to the lowest price in 13 years in active dealings on the Board of Trade today. Losses at the close ran from 45 to 60 points a contract, slightly above the lows for the day.

Brokers attributed the decline to easiness in fresh egg prices, large supplies of eggs in storage, favorable weather for egg production and liberal deliveries of storage eggs on September futures.

FARM POPULATION DECREASES

WASHINGTON (P)—The Census Bureau said today its estimates indicate that farm population fell off from spring, 1953, to spring, 1954, by three-quarters of a million persons, reducing the number of people living on farms in the United States to 21,800,000.

During the last four years, the Census Bureau said the nation's total population increased by approximately 10 1/2 millions to a total of 161 1/2 millions in April this year. But during those four years, from April 1950, through April 1954, the farm population declined by nearly 3 1/4 million persons, from 25,058,000 to 21,800,000.

DAVE HELM tied his horse to the hitchrail at Fugger's store and, crossing the sidewalk, knocked at the door. Hong Kong Smith opened it.

"It's done," Dave said, entering.

Hong Kong Smith took out a huge white handkerchief from his breast pocket and mopped his forehead. He looked at Jacob Fugger. "Satisfied?"

"He wouldn't have it any other way," Fugger said. "He kept crowding me all the time."

"Oh, shut up," said Hong Kong Smith. He gestured to Dave Helm. "Come on."

The Texas Saloon was more crowded than it had ever been in its four years' existence. They were standing two and three deep at the bar, but Smith grabbed a man by the arm and whirled him away. Another man he elbowed aside. And once he reached the bar he used his huge bulk to shove a space clear for Dave Helm.

Helm sipped at the whiskey and a warm glow spread through him. Lily Leeds stepped up on the little platform and began to sing.

She sang the song of Sam Older and Wes Tancered and there was a catch in her voice and a huskiness that had never been there before and men in the room became silent and listened. A man stopped whirling a chuck-a-luck cage and a faro dealer covered his box with his hands and stared at the layout before him.

At the bar, Dave Helm listened to the song and the knuckles of his hand whitened as his fingers closed about the glass in his fist and finally the glass collapsed and he let the broken pieces fall to the floor.

Lily finished the song and for a moment there was a dead silence in the crowded saloon. Then a man clapped and the others about," cried Smith. "He's here in Sage City!"

"Why, yes?"

LEE KINNARD came along the bar. He was coatless and a star was pinned on the left side of his shirt. His face was sober, his eyes like those of an eagle, searching for prey.

He came up to the group and said, "Luke Miller was killed 15 minutes ago."

"Oh, no!" gasped Lily. "Fugger wouldn't dare."

"He dared all right,"

Hong Kong Smith pointed a thick forefinger at the star on Kinnard's chest. "You didn't waste any time pinning that on."

Kinnard said, "Fugger himself hasn't got the nerve to kill a prairie dog and Eric Steinmeyer was in McCoy's all evening, so it was one of your men who did the job."

"Maybe," sneered Smith, "then again maybe it was your friend, what's he been calling himself?"

Bailey. Shooting people when they ain't looking's in his line." He stopped, as Kinnard's eyes bored into him. "Or maybe you didn't know your fine friend was the dirty coward, Wes Tancered."

"So that's why he's left town!"

"What?" cried Smith. "He's run out? That proves his guilt."

"It proves only that he's gone," retorted Kinnard. "Mrs. Miller saw the killer. It wasn't," he continued firmly, "John Bailey."

LAURA VESSER was in bed, but not asleep when Mrs. Martin came to her room. "I-I thought you might want to know," Mr. Miller, the newspaper publisher, has been killed."

Laura gasped in dismay. She sprang out of bed. "How—how was he killed?" she asked, fearfully.

"I don't know rightly. Mrs. Miller told the sheriff that someone knocked on their door and when Mr. Miller answered, he was shot down. But there's talk that a man working for him did the shooting."

"Not John Bailey?"

"No—John Bailey!"

IT IS NEW REASON TO ASK TAX CUT

JOLIET, Ill. (AP)—A plea by an unidentified woman for a cut in real estate and property taxes was rejected by the Will County Board of Review and a member said, the reason was obvious.

"We've heard most complaints, but this woman had a new one," Tillman Woodhouse, a board member said Thursday. "She said she and her husband recently purchased their $30,000 home, a Cadillac and a lot of expensive home furnishings."

"What with keeping up all the payments, she said, they couldn't really afford to pay taxes at all, so she demanded a radical reduction."

$20,000 Asked For Death Of Race Driver

A suit asking $20,000 damages for the death of Earl Edward Vieira, local stock car driver, has been filed in Morgan county court by his wife, Betty Irene Vieira, administrator, against Forrest Powell.

Vieira burned to death on the night of Sept. 8, 1953, after his car overturned at the Morgan county fair grounds.

Stating that the Gem City Speedway, Inc., or in alternative Powell, had leased the race track from the Morgan County Agricultural Association, the administrator charged that Powell was negligent in management of the race.

It was claimed that the management failed to furnish adequate firefighting equipment and manpower to efficiently manage the track, and that the management failed to keep a lookout for the safety of drivers.

In a chancery suit filed in July, Mrs. Vieira asked an accounting under a constructive trust.

Robert Weiner of Springfield is attorney for the plaintiff.

RAWLEIGH TRUSTEES PAY BACK TAXES

WASHINGTON (AP)—Trustees of the estate of the late W. T. Rawleigh of Freeport, Ill., who made a fortune selling patent medicines from door to door, have paid a back tax assessment but the exact amount is not publicly known.

This was disclosed Friday with the filing in U. S. Tax Court of decisions based on written agreements between the Internal Revenue Service and the trustees' counsel, Peter B. Atwood of Chicago.

One stipulation said simply "the deficiency in the estate tax, plus statutory interest . . . has been paid." The government had claimed there was estate tax deficiency of $6,404.012.

But some tax court sources raised a question as to whether the settlement amount was that high. They said the Internal Revenue Service may have reduced its deficiency claim and the lowered amount was paid. The service normally does not make this kind of settlement public.

Convict Claims He Knows Burial Spot Of Missing Graver

CHICAGO (AP)—Cook County authorities said today they are investigating the claim of an inmate of Leavenworth Penitentiary that he knows the burial place of Clem Graver, missing Illinois legislator.

State's Atty. John Gutknecht said he has asked the U. S. attorney general's office for permission to bring the prisoner, Charles Baker, 29, formerly of Kentucky, to Chicago for questioning.

Graver, 53, a Republican ward committeeman and 15th District representative, was kidnapped the night of June 11, 1953, by several men who apparently followed him home from a ward meeting. Police have been unable to determine whether he is still alive or the motive for the kidnapping.

State's attorney's investigators recently questioned Baker in prison but said he refused to disclose where he said he knows about Graver. Baker was said to fear possible reprisals by fellow prisoners against a "stool pigeon."

Baker was sentenced from Chicago last Feb. 9 to a three year term for forging and cashing government checks. While held in jail he was a cellmate of a onetime member of a robber gang whose activities had been investigated in connection with Graver's disappearance.

Caution Urged As Last Long Holiday Lures Motorists

CHICAGO (AP)—Summer's last long weekend lured millions of Americans to the highways, rails, waters and skies today.

From the big cities there was a general Labor Day exodus to beaches, mountains, national and state parks and similar tourist attractions. Railroads, air lines and bus companies added special equipment and crews to carry the holiday load.

The National Safety Council estimated that millions of automobiles will choke the roads and that 390 persons will be killed in traffic mishaps in the 78 hours between 6 p. m. today and midnight Monday. The council urged every motorist to use caution, drive at reduced speed and observe the rules and courtesies of the road.

In Michigan, where license plates proclaim the state a "water-land" for tourists and vacationers, Gov. G. Mennen Williams has declared a state of emergency over the weekend to keep traffic deaths down. National Guard units are helping patrol the roads.
